Guidelines for Authors of the Journal of University Education Research

Tokushima University Center for University Extension has set the following requirements for the editing and publication of the Journal of University Education Research.

1. Title and format
   (1) Japanese title: 大学教育研究ジャーナル
   (2) English title: Journal of University Education Research
   (3) Format: A4 size, horizontal text

2. Release/publication
   (1) Journal articles are published on the Web.
   (2) As a rule, publication is annual.

3. Editorial committee
   (1) The editorial committee is comprised of the following members:
      1) Director of the Center for University Extension
      2) The committee chairperson appoints seven staff members from the university faculties (including graduate school staff jointly assigned to a faculty), Center for General Education, Center for University Extension and Center for Advanced Information Technology.
   (2) The position of chairperson is filled by the Director of the Center for University Extension.
   (3) The chairperson can appoint a managing editor.
   (4) Members (excluding the Director of the Center for University Extension) serve for 2 years. Membership does not preclude reappointment. However, if a member leaves the committee, the successor shall serve for the remainder of the term of his/her predecessor.

4. Content of submitted articles
   Submitted articles must be original, unpublished manuscripts (although this restriction does not apply to oral presentations and accompanying data) relating to Faculty Development (FD) research, FD activities or other research relevant to university education. Articles published or being considered for publication in other journals, or posted on websites, will not be accepted.

5. Eligibility for Submission
   There are no eligibility requirements for submission of articles.

6. Cover sheet
   The manuscript must be accompanied by a cover sheet listing the category of article, title, author(s), affiliation, Japanese key words (3-5), English title (or Japanese title if manuscript is in English), author(s) in Romanized form, affiliation in English, English key words (3-5), number of reprints required and contact information.

7. Style and format requirements
   (1) Manuscripts are categorized as Research Papers, Data, Previews or Reports. A Research Paper summarizes the results of new research. It should have originality, novelty and developability. A Data article provides a summary of raw data obtained from surveys and so forth, and is potentially useful for future research, development, practical application, and so forth. A Preview is a review of the literature or research results which could contribute to university education in the future. A Report can be a performance report or case study of effective practice in university education.
(2) The first page of the manuscript must include the article category, and the following in Japanese and English: title, author(s), affiliation and key words (3-5).

(3) Only collaborators responsible for the content of the article may be listed as coauthors. Assistants and partial collaborators may be named in a footnote if necessary.

(4) Irrespective of category, the main text should be no more than 20 pages of size A4, including figures, tables, reference list, English abstract, key words, etc.

(5) As a rule, the text is in 2-column format. One page should have 42 lines, with 22 Japanese characters per column (about 1800 characters per page). Use top and bottom margins of 25 mm, left and right margins of 20 mm, and separate columns with a 2-character space.

(6) Use MS Mincho 10.5 pt. for the main text if Japanese. Use MS Gothic 16 pt for the title and 14 pt for any subtitle. Section headings and key words should be in MS Gothic 10.5 pt. Use Century Gothic 11 pt for the English title and 9 pt for the abstract. All other English or Romanized text should be in Times New Roman 10.5 pt.

(7) Research Papers should include a Japanese abstract (400 characters). An English abstract (not more than 180 words) reviewed by an English expert is also required.

(8) Leave a line space above section headings. Do not leave a line space after a heading in the main text.

(9) Headings should be numbered with Arabic numerals.

(10) Use modern kanazukai and Joyo Kanji in Japanese texts, Arabic numerals for numbers and the Western calendar for years.

(11) Tables and figures should be numbered as follows: 'Table 1' (above the table), 'Fig. 1' (below the figure).

(12) Keep titles for tables and figures as concise as possible, and place captions in the main text.

(13) Because tables and figures require a relatively large area of the page, ensure that the overall page limit is not exceeded when tables/figures are included.

(14) As a rule, proper nouns such as foreign names and places should be written in the original language.

(15) References should be cued by a top-right superscript \(^1\) immediately after the citation, and listed in order of appearance at the end of the main text.

(16) As a rule, references should adhere to the following format:

1) Journals: [No.] Author(s): Title, Journal, Volume (no.), first page - last page, year (Western calendar).

2) Books (Japanese): [No.] Author(s): Title, first page - last page, publisher, place of publication, year (Western calendar).

3) Book (European language): [No.] Author(s), Year of publication, Title. Edition number and Place of publication should also be included as a rule. Only capitalize the first word of the title, proper nouns and German nouns. The title should be in italics.

4) Internet: [No.] Author(s), year, title of material, website, date of last update, <URI>, date accessed.

8. Review of articles and notification of results

(1) The editorial committee first checks that the submitted manuscript meets the style and format requirements of the journal. If the manuscript is considered satisfactory, the corresponding author is notified of the date of receipt (date of arrival). The manuscript must be carefully checked before submission, as manuscripts which widely deviate from the prescribed style and format requirements will not be accepted for consideration. Submissions with tables and figures in the wrong format or difficult to decipher will also require appropriate changes before being accepted for consideration.

(2) Submitted manuscripts are accepted for publication or rejected on the basis of examination by peer reviewers.
and discussion by the editorial committee. This process begins in January when the editorial committee convenes and designates peer reviewers.

(3) Research Papers and Data are subjected to peer review. Additions or deletions may sometimes be required. The manuscript may also require other revisions in accordance with the opinions of reviewers.

(4) Notification of the review results is sent by email to the corresponding author within 1 month of the January meeting of the editorial committee.

(5) At this stage the manuscript is treated as a 'Finished Manuscript'. (Apart from changes requested by reviewers, rewrites are not normally allowed after submission.)

(6) The first proofs are proofread by the author(s), and subsequent proofreading is done by the editorial committee. The first proofread is limited to correction for incorrect or missing characters.

(7) The printing format is the sole responsibility of the editorial committee.

(8) Articles are posted on the Web within one month of publication.

9. Submission of articles

(1) Manuscripts are received from April 1 to the end of December each year.

(2) Manuscripts should be submitted as an email attachment.

(3) Manuscripts can be prepared using either Word or Ichitaro, and must be submitted in the layout prescribed in the Style and Format Requirements.

(4) The originals of photographs, figures, etc., are to be sent after the article has been accepted for publication following the review process.
